

LEADERSHIP EXPEDITION NZ

AGENDA

subject to reorder based on weather and conditions*

2004 February 15-22, February 29-March 7, March 14-21

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY	SUNDAY
COMPETENCY		PERSONAL CAPABILITY	CHARACTER	REFLECTION	INTERPERSONAL SKILLS	FOCUS ON RESULTS	LEADING ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE
FOCUS		Ruthless Efficiency	Self-Awareness	Pace	Relationship Management	Self-Management	Self-Motivation	Course Evaluation
MTN. SKILLS		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Equipment outfitting and check Equipment test 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Base Camp setup; intro to environment Heli skills Snow and rock craft 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ice craft Self arrests Climbing Peaks 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Rescue operations Rope Management Radio Protocols 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Leading glacial traverses Leading Peak Climbs 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Leading mountain descent 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Formulating your next adventure challenge
COMPETENCY COMPANIONS		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Situational Leadership: how we learn and lead. Impact motivation Technical and Professional Performance under pressure 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Assertiveness assessment Risk Identification, Analysis and Minimization Resolving Conflict 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reflection and self-debriefing 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Powerful communications Building collaboration and great teams Active Listening Inspiring others 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Importance of stretch goals Maximizing productivity Taking responsibility for outcomes 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Getting others to change Being an antennae to the outside world Getting the team to accept new strategic course 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Developing your personal and/or professional launch plan
LEADERSHIP TRAIT DEBRIEF		Mountain Expeditions as Metaphors Explore the meaning of leadership and current leadership challenges - personal and professional.	Craft Using tools and skills to create things and carry out work Discuss how by mastering your craft with people, products, or technology you can play an even more critical role as a leader.	Courage Ability to execute an action of significant consequence Abraham Lincoln is heralded as perhaps the greatest of US Presidents. What examples of courage mark his leadership?	Drive / Flow Where creative tension melds seamlessly with knowledge, skill and attitude to create a state of concentration and deep enjoyment. Tonight we take inventory on our individual flow during the program. What factors have led it to this state? What drives us and how important is flow in the workplace?	Style Quality of imagination and individuality expressed in one's actions and tastes The Titans of US business, Ford, Carnegie, Eastman & Walton might seem scheming and ruthless. What impact did style have on their success?	Edge Ability to make unpopular decisions while maintaining integrity & keeping all engaged What caused the outcomes of both completed and tragic expeditions on Everest in May 1996? To what extent is the team or individual responsible?	Wonder: Adventure as Your Teacher Graduation and Awards Ceremony. Presentation by Guy Cotter and Tom Schnugg on "Why Adventure?"
			Location*
	Wanaka - Hotel check-in. Group intros. orientation. rest.	Wanaka - Hotel.	Wanaka to Base Camp on Bonar Glacier via Heli transport	Glacial terrain from Base Camp	Glacial terrain from Base Camp	Peak Climb (weather permitting) or traverse to French Ridge Hut (descent on foot)	Camp to Wanaka (heli) or French Hut to Valley Floor and back to Wanaka	Wanaka - Hotel Check out